The Tax-Dodger.

The Mound City pastors recently gave members of their flocks to understand that it was wicked not to give in all their property when the assessor calls around. It is a fact that th many little sins that should be shown

The above reminds us of one of those paralyzing incidents that will once in a while come to the surface, especially after a fellow is dead and gone. Dr. Haken, of Mound City, who recently died, left an estate according to an of this county, valued at $23,000. His Sentinel is truly glad of it. We have inentory now on fill in the probate court list as returned to the assessor for 1809 known him personally for a number of taxes, stated that he was worth but $1890. It is a great pity that our of Combe's personal career we can in no ficials, assessors and county courts have | way speak of it, better than to reproto wait for a fellow to die to find out how much he is worth; what amount of taxes the city, county and state have terprise and progress. The county court should see to it, that estate is made to pay its playment to 235 people. obligation to our county and state, and if the laws of Mound City will authorize it, its citycouncil should do the same. Had our state laws been such as to compel every citizen to list his property, such a brazen case of tax-dodging would not have occurred. And there are others.

The Real Cause.

The state superintendent of schools has recently received inquiries as to the cause of the shortage in the state school moneys for this year. It is not true that the amount apportioned from the state treasury is less than it has been heretofore.—Maryyille Ry-That may be true; but the state school fund is $100,000 short of what it should be. Do you know that 100 insurance companies of this state were each fined $1,000 for violation of the anti-trust law. Den't you know that the laws of Missouri provide that fines and forfeitures when collected shall be placed to the credit of the chool fund? Don't you know that this $100,000 was never paid into the state school fund, but on the contrary was placed to the credit of the state revenue fund? Don't you know; tuat right now, there one $300,000 collected asforeign insurance tax, being held up by the state bouse gang, and has been placed to the credit of the state revenue fund, when the law provides that it shall be placed to the credit of the schools of the various counties. The state school fund may be no emaller, but it is a "ground hog" case that the school children have $100,000 down at Jefferson City, that should be distributed to the of the president, in passing a bill apvarious counties of our state for their benefit, and which is being held up by

The Questions Answered.

A number of our Democratic contemperaries are running an article, presenting five questions supposed to cover those points in a resolution introduced for the purpose of inquiring into the manage-ment of the national treasury, by Secretary Gage. All of these questions were promptly met by the national secretary, and as his answers have not yet been published by these papers, will give them from week to week until the five are answered. It must be remembered that there is no better criterion as to the pecuniary condition of a people than the savings bank account. It has been known all along in a general way that Holt county was enjoying a period of unusual business prosperity, but not until now, when the bank statements just made in response to the call of the secretary of state, have the figures been obtainable to prove it. It may be that the continuance of the gold standard has reduced the "per capita" since the campaign of 1856; may be there isn't enough money in the United States to transact the business of the country with, and perbane we are on the very edge of finan. business of the country with, and per-haps we are on the very edge of financial ruin, nationally, state and county, but the signs of the times don't show it. but the signs of the times don't show it. Observer's Observation We see by the papers that the Cape Nome gold excitement continues unabat ed In fact it seems to be on the increase It is said that the whole sea shore for at least 100 miles in length is literally full of gold. The very sands of the beach wash out from $900 to $15 per pan. Skayway, Dawson, and even the Klondyke itself, are pouring forth their hundreds and thousands for the new gold fields. Cape Nome is on the shores of Behring sea, about 3,500 miles from Seattle, 2,600 mile from Skaguaway and 2,000 miles from Dawson. It seems to be the concensus of opinion, so far as we have noted it, that the route to Capi-Nome via of Dawson will be the opmost followed and especially in the early spring. Aithough this would make the distance from Seattle some 2,500 to 3,000 greater, still it is estimated that a traveler in the first rush of the early spring will reach the great Cape Nome gold fields by that route some four weeks earlier than by the all sea route. This is based upon the information given out by sea captains familiar with that region. They say that the spring floods drive the ice out of the Yuko river and away from the shore lines as far porth as Cape Nome a full mouth earlier than the pack ice in Behring see goes out, thus allowing an unimpeded assage down the Yukon from Dawson to the gold fields for a considerable time while the yessels from Seattle by the all sea route are yet ice bound to the region south of Behring sea. We understard that there is at least one man in Oregon who seriously contemplates making the trip to that country coming spring, and oming in the mad rush for possession of the "yellow stuff."
